

Common Connections Foundation's Tri-Awareness Ribbon Project™ seeks to unite individuals, youth and community-based organizations with an empowering experience that promotes healing creativity, fosters community engagement and educates individuals and youths through awareness and advocacy.

In recognition of three awareness causes – inner wellness, gun violence and domestic violence - with their respective designated months of May, June and October, Common Connections Foundation has developed a creative spin on three individual awareness ribbons coining the “Tri-Awareness Ribbon™”.

So, what exactly is a “Tri-Awareness” Ribbon™?

Three ribbon hues - orange, purple, green - combined symbolizing a total of three causes – inner wellness (mental health), domestic violence, and gun violence - all in one equals Tri-Awareness™!
